This ramp was designed to provide a full 42 inches of width in front of a doorway. Handrails are optional and provide added security for people that need a little stability transitioning through the door. Perfect for storm door or screen doors, the width of the Big Lug allows clearance between the handrails. The Big Lug is also ideal for small curb situations and creates a full-sized and gentle path for folks using walkers or wheelchairs or even those that are just a little unsteady on their feet
